

Timing of Submission

ADAMS has been designed to accept analytical finding records (either manually entered or electronically submitted via XML/CSV file transfer) either before or after the relevant doping control form has been entered. The result matching and verification process will only complete after the DCF is entered.